

Border Fine Arts from Enesco has been producing The World of Beatrix Potter products since being granted the licence in 1987; since then, this popular collection has grown to include many different formats.

Highlights of the new additions include a range of ceramic alphabet letters from A to Z, all featuring delicate decals taken from the original artwork of Beatrix Potter's best-loved tales. Perfect for display in a baby's nursery, the whole alphabet can be collected or a name created in various colours and character designs.

Also new to the Peter Rabbit Nursery Collection, are two nursery door plaques with attractive hanging ribbons: one for baby boys, featuring Peter Rabbit, and one for baby girls, featuring Flopsy Bunny.

Bespoke branded display packaging makes these ideal gifts and future keepsakes, and a ribbon is featured on the packaging too.

Brand new this month, from you to me's Early Years is a hand-illustrated journal and companion notebook set to inspire parents to capture the first precious five years of their child's life. A wonderful packaged gift set for parents-to-be and new parents, Early Years is shrink-wrapped for protection with a belly band featuring the contents of the set. A 15-page section each year, featuring woodland animal illustrations, takes parents on a journey from birth to child's first birthday, with space for photos and writing about all those precious firsts, from arrival into the world, first words and steps, key celebrations, to first day at school. Available in Pink Mouse or Blue Owl designs.

Neviti's wide selection of baby ranges are perfect for special occasions such as baby showers, christenings, naming ceremonies and first birthday celebrations. The company has just added another two ranges to their offerings, with its new Little Owls range and the licensed Guess How Much I Love You partyware, not forgetting Neviti's existing ranges, including the ever popular Baby Miffy and Tiny Feet collections.

The Baby Miffy range features a delicate pastel colour palette and Dick Bruna's famous bunny creation, across a fantastic selection of party essentials with eye-catching pieces such as the Baby Miffy cake stand. Tiny Feet is still a popular choice for baby showers and christenings, offering tableware, decorations and accessories with beautiful baby illustrations including a polka dot pram and stripy baby grow in delicate pastel shades. Items in the range include glass pram decorations and table confetti to add a pretty touch to your party table.
